NTRS Education and Training

The National Therapeutic Recreation Society is pleased to share information about therapeutic recreation related conferences and workshops. The programs listed represent many of the significant meetings throughout the country. While every effort has been made to verify the accuracy of this information, it is strongly suggested that individuals obtain details from the listed contact persons prior to finalizing plans for attendance. NTRS is in no position to judge the quality of all programs listed. In addition to this resource, NRPA also has an on-line Training Calendar, and you should also check the "Coming Events" section of Parks & Recreation magazine each month for the latest information on continuing education opportunities.

If you would like to share information about an upcoming conference with NTRS members, please submit the pertinent details about the conference to ntrsnrpa@nrpa.org. Thank you.
